> "I attended the IFIC Summer school in Orange, NSW. I have to say I thoroughly enjoyed myself and learnt so much. The program was excellent, packed full of some really useful and effective frameworks and tools for working within the integrated care space. Each Presenter was warm, exceptionally knowledgeable and very generous with their time. The program's collegial atmosphere was also very conducive to learning and putting into practice newfound skills and knowledge. I really couldn't recommend the course enough to those working to better integrate care services and systems."

Course Description

This immersive learning experience responds to demand from the health and aged care sectors in Australia and the Asia Pacific to help build knowledge, capacity and skills to support the effective design and adoption of integrated care in practice. The two-day course is designed as a short, intensive, residential program for individuals, teams and local partners to support the advancement of their integrated care projects and plans in their own context.

The course is organised in advance of the 3rd Asia Pacific Conference on Integrated Care (APIC3). This course has been developed for those involved in the design, implementation, management and evaluation of integrated care approaches and whom want to learn more about leading initiatives, new models of care and evidence-based practice. Specifically it provides a unique opportunity for networking and discussing real-world problems and share learning with other participants and IFIC's expert faculty.

The course will be taught by leading academics, policy makers and practitioners including IFIC's international team of experts. It will have a combination of lectures, facilitated discussions, a site visit to ATUNE Health Centre in Cardiff, and some practical exercises.

You will be immersed in the expertise of the Foundation, the CCRI and its partners, the school will be a space for you to share your experiences, concerns, and learning with the rest of the participants in a collaborative learning environment.

There will also be a visit to an Aboriginal Cultural Site, an opportunity to learn from First Nation experience, a core theme of APIC3.

> "I recently attended the Accelerated Learning Program in Orange and what a fantastic opportunity it was! The content was in-depth and took my understanding of IC to another level. It was wonderful to meet the leaders in this field, bringing research to clinical practice and service design. I was able to refine my project plan and was left with some clear goals to work on. The opportunity to network with other teams from around the state was an enjoyable bonus. I would highly recommend this intensive week of learning."
